

PRESS RELEASE

Lord Parkinson chips in at Aldwickbury Park Charity Cup

(Aldwickbury Park Golf Club, Harpenden – June, 22, 2009) Former Cabinet Minister and Conservative Party Chairman Cecil Parkinson was among the players who took part in Aldwickbury Park Golf Club's annual Charity Cup on Saturday.

The day, which featured an 18-hole golf competition, charity auction and barbecue, raised more than £5,000 for Central Herts YMCA, of which Lord Parkinson is a patron, and the selected charity of club captain Tim Fox.

A total of 115 golfers teed it up, with Clare Butterworth taking the honours with a score of 44 points, closely followed by Tony Neary (43 points) and Alan Dunwoodie (42 points).

A signed print of Jack Nicklaus and a James Bond jacket made especially for Roger Moore were among the auction prizes, with a round-the-world airline ticket with Virgin Atlantic also on offer for a hole-in-one.

"It's amazing to have raised so much money for the Central Herts YMCA," said Tim Fox. "I'm truly grateful to all those who turned out to support me and gave so generously to the charity."

Tristan Hall, general manager of Aldwickbury Park Golf Club, added: "The members are extremely generous and showed that once again with their incredible support of their captain Tim Fox, and his chosen charity.

"We were delighted to welcome Lord Parkinson, and there was a great atmosphere throughout the day – everyone enjoyed the golf and the evening event in the clubhouse."

ENDS

Picture Caption: (from left) Lord Parkinson, Patron of Central Herts YMCA, winner Clare Butterworth and Aldwickbury Park Golf Club captain Tim Fox.